

Proud, Unbroken People

focus on the failure of others are self-righteous, have a critical, fault finding spirit, look at own life with a telescope but others with a microscope

look down on others

are independent; have a self-sufficient spirit maintain control; must have their way have to prove that they are right claim rights

have a demanding spirit

are self-protective of time, rights, reputation desire to be served

desire for self-advancement

are driven to be recognized and appreciated are wounded when others are promoted and they are overlooked think “the ministry is privileged to have me!”

Feel confident in how much they know

keep people at arm’s length are quick to blame others

are unapproachable

are defensive when criticized

are concerned with being respectable are concerned about what others think work to maintain image and protect reputation find it difficult to share spiritual needs with others want to be sure no one finds out about their sins have a hard time saying, “I was wrong. Would you forgive me?”

Deal in generalities when confessing sin

are concerned about the consequences of their sin

are remorseful for being caught wait for the other party to come and ask for forgiveness in a conflict compare themselves w/others & feel deserving of honor are blind to their true heart condition don’t think they have anything of which to repent don’t think they need revival (think everyone else does)

Broken People

are overwhelmed with their own spiritual need are compassionate; have a forgiving spirit; look for best in others esteem all others better than self have a dependent spirit; recognize others’ needs surrender control

are willing to yield the right to be right

yield rights

have a giving spirit

are self-denying

are motivated to serve others

desire to promote others

have a sense of unworthiness; are thrilled to be used at all; are eager for others to get the credit rejoice when others are lifted up think “I don’t deserve to serve in this ministry!”

Are humbled by how much they have to learn risk getting close to others; are willing to take the risks of loving intimately accept personal responsibility; can see where they were wrong

are easy to be entreated

receive criticism with a humble, open heart are concerned with being real know all that matters is what God knows die to own reputation

are willing to be transparent with others are willing to be exposed; know once broken, there’s nothing to lose are quick to admit fault and to seek forgiveness

deal in specifics

are grieved over the root of their win

are repentant over sin and forsake it take the initiative to be reconciled compare themselves with the holiness of God and feel desperate for mercy walk in the light

have a continual heart attitude toward repentance continually sense their need for a fresh encounter with the filling of the Holy Spirit

Proud, Unbroken People

focus on the failure of others

are self-righteous, have a critical, fault finding spirit, look at own life with a telescope but others with a microscope

look down on others

are independent; have a self-sufficient spirit

maintain control; must have their way

have to prove that they are right

claim rights

have a demanding spirit

are self-protective of time, rights, reputation

desire to be served

desire for self-advancement

are driven to be recognized and appreciated

are wounded when others are promoted and they are overlooked

think “the ministry is privileged to have me!”

Feel confident in how much they know

keep people at arm’s length

are quick to blame others

are unapproachable

are defensive when criticized

are concerned with being respectable

are concerned about what others think

work to maintain image and protect reputation

find it difficult to share spiritual needs with others

want to be sure no one finds out about their sins

have a hard time saying, “I was wrong. Would you forgive me?”

Deal in generalities when confessing sin

are concerned about the consequences of their sin

are remorseful for being caught

wait for the other party to come and ask for forgiveness in a conflict

compare themselves w/others & feel deserving of honor

are blind to their true heart condition

don’t think they have anything of which to repent

don’t think they need revival (think everyone else does)

Broken People

are overwhelmed with their own spiritual need

are compassionate; have a forgiving spirit; look for best in others

esteem all others better than self

have a dependent spirit; recognize others’ needs

surrender control

are willing to yield the right to be right

yield rights

have a giving spirit

are self-denying

are motivated to serve others

desire to promote others

have a sense of unworthiness; are thrilled to be used at all; are eager for others to get the credit

rejoice when others are lifted up

think “I don’t deserve to serve in this ministry!”

Are humbled by how much they have to learn

risk getting close to others; are willing to take the risks of loving intimately

accept personal responsibility; can see where they were wrong

are easy to be entreated

receive criticism with a humble, open heart

are concerned with being real

know all that matters is what God knows

die to own reputation

are willing to be transparent with others

are willing to be exposed; know once broken, there’s nothing to lose

are quick to admit fault and to seek forgiveness

deal in specifics

are grieved over the root of their win

are repentant over sin and forsake it

take the initiative to be reconciled

compare themselves with the holiness of God and feel desperate for mercy

walk in the light

have a continual heart attitude toward repentance

continually sense their need for a fresh encounter with the filling of the Holy Spirit